

The FCC should not be able to limit the services we receive from xm satellite radio since we pay $10 a month for service. XM was able to add additional perks to their customers accounts by offering this service and the FCC should not be able to control what the company offers to its PAYING customers. I have had it with governmental regulations over what we can receive as paying customers.